Lesson guidelines

New Round-Up is a fun, practical English grammar practice book that supplements your coursebook. It is perfect for extra grammar practice at the end of a lesson or as homework. New Round-Up is straightforward and easy to use. It is designed to be used with students who are studying English in different situations. Level 5 is for intermediate students.

New Round-Up 5 English Grammar Practice is divided into 15 units, each of which focuses on two or three areas of grammar. Within each unit there are clear and colourful grammar reference boxes and a series of straightforward, mainly write-in activities to practise the grammar. Every third unit there is a Progress Check which gives students the chance to consolidate what they have learnt in the previous units. Throughout the book there are oral activities which allow students to have fun while they learn English. In addition, a series of writing activities provides freer, more personalised practice.

This updated version provides Progress Checks and a Revision section. Use the Progress Checks to help you and your students identify the grammar points that need further explanation and practice. You can use them in two ways:

1. As a diagnostic test to help you identify grammar points that students have difficulty with.
2. To help students identify the grammar points they need to revise and practise before they do the Revision at the end of each section.

The Revision section provides exercises which test students' progress and comprehension of grammar points and also prepares them for a test after every three units.

Your Teacher's Guide has the answer key for the exercises in the Grammar Practice book and a set of photocopiable tests with keys as well as quizzes which are to be taken at the end of each unit. These tests can save you preparation time and give your students a good idea of their progress. Students will be well prepared for each test once they have successfully completed the appropriate revision unit.

Level 5 of New Round-Up Grammar Practice is accompanied by a CD-ROM.

Using New Round-Up

Choose exercises from the Grammar Practice book that practise or revise language that has been presented. Do not feel that you have to use all the exercises in a unit.

The exercises can be used by simply following the instructions in the book and students write in the answers. Or, when there is time in class, you can use them orally first with the whole class or in pairwork or groupwork.

Oral practice

It is a good idea to do the exercises orally first, then go on to do the writing. English spelling can be confusing. By starting with oral practice, students get a chance to hear how the word sounds and concentrate on the meaning before they have to start worrying about the form.

Whole class

New Round-Up 5 Grammar Practice includes several exercises that you can use with the whole class to work on students' pronunciation and intonation. These are especially well-suited to whole class practice because they give you a chance to check on students' pronunciation and help them improve it through student-student correction or by modelling the pronunciation yourself. The exercises that are well-suited to this type of oral practice are:

Unit 1 Ex. 1 (present forms: Third person singular)

Unit 2 Ex. 2 (past forms: '-ed' endings)

Give students time to look at the exercises before they have to do them out loud. Then select students at random to do the exercises. If students do not know who will be asked to speak next, they will have to pay closer attention and concentrate on all the items in case they are chosen next.

In Unit 15 Ex. 10 (question tag intonation) you will need to refer to the key in the Teacher's Book for the intonation patterns. Read the sentences aloud while students tick the appropriate column. Check answers then get students to produce the correct intonation.

Many of the exercises are worth using with the whole class to help them get used to oral practice. For example, Unit 6 Ex. 10 (passive), Unit 8 Ex. 11 (conjunctions), Unit 9 Ex. 5 (reported speech), Unit 12

Exs. 20, 21 (comparatives) and Unit 14 Ex. 10 (prepositions).

Pairwork

Many of the exercises can easily be done by students in pairs. Pairwork is vital because it ensures that everyone gets the chance to speak. Like groupwork, it also allows you to spend time with students who might be having difficulties. There are several different ways to vary the pairwork. Here are some examples.

1. The simplest way is for the students to work together (in closed pairs) to complete the exercises orally first, then in writing. When most of the students have finished, check the answers in open pairs so that everyone in the class can hear.

Some exercises that work well this way are: Unit 1 Ex. 4 (present forms), Unit 2 Ex. 3 (past forms), Unit 3 Ex. 3 (future forms), Unit 4 Ex. 7 (infinitive / -ing form).

2. Some of the exercises can be done as dialogues. First students do the exercise in closed pairs: e.g., one student asks the questions, the other replies. When they finish, they reverse the roles. Then, in open pairs, choose a student to ask a question and one to reply.

Practising the dialogues in closed pairs helps the students gain confidence and allows you to monitor and correct errors before they have to speak in front of the whole class.

Exercises that have dialogue parts and suit this type of pairwork are:

Unit 1 Ex. 11 (present forms), Unit 3 Ex. 1 (future forms), Unit 5 Ex. 6 (modal verbs).

Groupwork

1. Put the students into groups to go through the exercises orally first, then do the written work together. When most groups have finished, select a few to give feedback to the class at the end. Some of the exercises that work well in groups are: Unit 2 Exs. 7, 8 (past forms), Unit 3 Ex. 19 (future forms), Unit 9 Ex. 3 (reported speech).

2. Communication activities:

Unit 15 Ex. 14 (so – neither – but) can be extended and used as a group activity by adapting the grid in the book.

1. Students ask and answer the questions about the grid in pairs.
2. They copy the grid, substituting their names for the names in the book.
3. They stand up and ask each other about whether they listen to records, read magazines, etc.
4. Stop the activity when they have complete information about each person in their group. Choose a few to give feedback to the whole class.

The activity gives students a lot of practice and allows you to listen for mistakes and problems.

Grammar boxes and tables

The grammar boxes and tables sum up the key points in each unit. Students can refer to these while they are doing the practice activities and later when they are revising. Encourage them to use the boxes and to reread them often. In addition to grammar reference, they also provide information on the spelling and pronunciation areas that can easily cause students problems.

Guessing new words

Students should be encouraged to use their own language and words that they already know in English to guess the meaning of new vocabulary.

In New Round-Up 5, students are able to use context to help them guess the meanings of new words. When students come across a new word they should try to decide what part of speech it is: a verb, a noun, an adjective, etc. They can then look at the other words in the sentence to determine what the word means.

Encourage students to keep a record of new vocabulary. The record should include the correct spelling of the word, the word used in a sentence and the word's meaning.

Writing Activity (Suggested Answers)

Dear John,

How are you? I am writing to you from Paris. We're staying at the Ritz Hotel. The weather here is cloudy but warm. Right now, we are at Disneyland. Mum and Dad have been on the boatride. I have been on all the roller coaster rides. It's so exciting! We haven't been to the Louvre Museum yet but we are going there on Tuesday. Tomorrow, we are going to see the Eiffel Tower. We're looking forward to it. See you soon.

Paul

Speaking Activity (Suggested Answer)

A light breeze was blowing and the sun was shining. Dan and Martin were having a lot of fun at the lake! They had been skating for over an hour when, suddenly, the ice cracked. Dan fell into the water. Martin lay down on the ice to help him. He threw his scarf to Dan. Dan grabbed it and Martin pulled him out. Dan was shivering and shaking. Martin went to get some blankets and to call the emergency services. They took Dan to hospital. He was happy to be alive!

Writing Activity (Suggested Answer)

Dear Tony,

How are you? I'm really excited! Next weekend, I'm visiting a friend in Manchester. I'm going to stay at the Park Hotel with my parents. We're taking the train to Manchester. When we get there, we'll go shopping and we're hoping we will have seen at least one performance in the theatre by the time we leave. I can't wait to go.

What are you doing this weekend? I'll call you when I get back.

Best wishes,

George

Dear Gwen,

I'm happy to hear that you're planning to visit Egypt this summer. I'm sure you'll enjoy yourself!

It's worth visiting the Egyptian Museum to see all the exhibits. Don't miss seeing the Sphinx and the Pyramids, too. You'll have the chance to learn a lot of interesting things about ancient Egyptian civilisation.

You should also try eating falafel while you're there. It's delicious!

Before I let you into the pool area, I would like to explain the pool rules. First of all, you mustn't bring food or drink into the pool area. Everyone must take a shower before using the pool. You can wear swimming goggles, and soft balls are allowed in the pool but you mustn't bring pets into the pool area. If you want to dive, you must use the diving boards. Finally, you mustn't yell, play loud music, run or push at the pool.

Thank you for listening. Now, it's time to go and enjoy your swim!

Writing Activity (Suggested Answer)

Dear Diary,

It's amazing how life can change so quickly. I'm a famous, well-paid actress now and this was all due to luck. If I hadn't been surfing on the internet, I wouldn't have found an acting website. If I hadn't posted a profile and picture, a talent agent wouldn't have called me. If a talent agent hadn't called me, I wouldn't have been cast as an extra in a small film. If I hadn't done such a great job in the film, I wouldn't have been offered a role in a major motion picture. If I hadn't played the role, I wouldn't have become famous! However, I wish I had time to see my friends. I also wish photographers wouldn't follow me to take pictures. If they didn't follow me, magazines wouldn't print false stories about me. I'm really lucky but I miss some things about my old life.

 "Yes, I am in three sports teams," Barry said. "That's why I always feel tired at the end of the day."
 "You should participate in one sport only and spend more time in the library studying," the student advisor said.
 "You're right. That's a good idea," Barry said.
 "I want you to meet with me after your next exam," the student advisor said.

Teens Clean Up Local Park

Yesterday, the students of Bedford Secondary School cleaned up Griffith Park. After the event, we got the chance to speak with some of them.

The students were very interested in answering our questions. When asked why they had decided to help clean the park, one of the students said that the park was too dirty to play sports in and that they wanted to help change that. Then we asked whose idea it had been to organise such an event. Another student said that their class had come up with the idea after their teacher had asked them to think of a project to help the environment. We also asked what exactly the students had done. A student explained that some of them had helped to pick up leaves and rubbish while others had painted the park benches. When asked what message they would like to give to residents in the area, another student advised residents to take part in a neighbourhood clean-up programme and not to throw their litter on the ground but to use bins instead.

Finally, we asked if they were planning another event like that one and a student told us that they were thinking about having a beach clean-up day next.

We would like to congratulate these students for all their efforts. Perhaps they will encourage others to help our community.

A: I went with my family. We had a great time together.

B: How did you travel there?

A: We travelled by plane from Madrid. I was so excited! We stayed at a fantastic hotel there.

B: What did you do there?

A: We visited many famous attractions such as the Vatican, the Sistine Chapel and the Coliseum. Gladiators fought there many years ago. Next, we went to see a museum called the Keats-Shelley Memorial House. It has many of the famous poets' letters and paintings. After that, we climbed the Spanish Steps and ate ice cream!

B: That sounds lovely. Did you enjoy your holiday?

A: Oh, I loved it. Rome is so beautiful. I want to visit Italy again someday.

Writing Activity (Suggested Answer)

Dear Jane,

Hi. How are you? My family and I just came back from Rome and we had such a great time! We stayed at a wonderful hotel called the Empire Palace Hotel in the city centre. We could walk to all the famous attractions and we had an amazing view from our balcony, too!

Rome has a fascinating variety of architecture. We visited the Vatican, the Sistine Chapel and the Coliseum, where gladiators used to fight. My favourite place was the Keats-Shelley Memorial House, which is a museum. It displays some of the famous poets' possessions. The house was near to the beautiful Spanish Steps. We climbed all 138 steps. The best part was when Mum bought ice creams for everyone at the top. It was the best ice cream I have ever tasted. I hope to visit Italy again someday! Where did you go for the holidays?

Write back soon,

Tara

Dear Lucy,

How are you? I'm writing to tell you about the house. It looks amazing now! Well, most of the work has already been done. In the garden, I have had roses planted and a fountain put in. I had the grass cut yesterday. I have also had the front gate repaired, the roof fixed and the house repainted. I haven't had the house cleaned yet but I'll have it done tomorrow. You must come and visit me. It's really great! I'm so happy with it!

A: The big house is the farthest from the town but it is more quiet than the other two places, which are noisier.

B: The small house is in a less noisy area than the flat.

A: The flat is the most modern but smaller than the other two places.

B: The big house is not as old as the small house and it's in a more beautiful area, too.

Writing Activity (Suggested Answer)

Dear Simon,

I have found three places which you may be interested in – a flat, a small house and a big house. The flat is the cheapest and is nearest to the town centre. It's the most modern and only 2 years old.

Next, the small house is more expensive than the flat and further away from the town centre. It is also the oldest place.

Finally, the big house is the most expensive and is the farthest from the town. It's in a more quiet and beautiful area and it's bigger than the others.

Write to me soon and let me know if you are interested in any of these places.

Best wishes,

Greg

Writing Activity (Suggested Answer)

Dear Tina,

I was happy to hear from you and I'm glad that you're well. Everything here is still the same. I am enjoying myself at school and I like my teachers and my lessons.

You must come to visit soon. I can take you to see all the sights. Please write to me and tell me you are coming!

Yours

Sam

Progress Check 1

Ex. 3 (p. 39)

Narrator: There are seven questions in this part. For each question there are three pictures and a short recording. For each question, choose the correct answer (A, B or C). Before we start, here is an example.

What did the boy have for lunch?

Waiter: May I take your order, please?

Boy: Yes, thank you. Do you have anything without meat in it?

Waiter: Well, today's special is spaghetti and meatballs, but you could have a cheese sandwich.

Boy: No, thanks. I'd like to have something warm. Could I just have the spaghetti without the meatballs?

Waiter: I'm afraid they're already mixed together. How about a plate of chips?

Boy: That sounds good, yes. Thank you.

Narrator: The answer is C. Look at the three pictures for question 1 now.

1 What is the weather like today?

Radio Announcer: Good morning. As you all know, we are celebrating our Comedy Festival this weekend. Let's hope the weather gets better by then. Now, the weather forecast. We can expect clear skies and plenty of sun on Saturday morning. In the evening, however, it will be cloudy and windy. Unfortunately, today's rainy weather is likely to return on Sunday, so take your umbrellas with you!

Narrator: Now listen again.

2 How did the girl hurt herself?

Doctor: Oh, dear. That's a bad cut. What happened?

Girl: I was at school having a cooking lesson.

Doctor: Right. So, you hurt yourself cutting vegetables?

Girl: No, I've done that before, so this time I was really careful with the knife. It happened while I was washing up. Unfortunately, I dropped a glass bowl in the sink and it broke and cut my hand.

Narrator: Now listen again.

3 How is the boy going to celebrate his birthday?

Boy: Dad, I need help deciding what I'm going to do for my birthday. Do you think the cinema is a good idea?

Father: Well, that all depends on which film you want to see, doesn't it? It's hard to please everyone. What about going bowling or out for dinner somewhere?

Boy: My friends often go out to eat, so that won't be anything special. I think it would be fun to do something active, but bowling is a bit expensive. Perhaps it's best to just go to the cinema.

Father: All right then. Let's see what's on in the newspaper.

Narrator: Now listen again.

4 Which subject did the girl do well at?

Boy: How did you do in your Maths test? I'm so glad I passed.

Girl: Well, I wasn't so lucky. I have to take it again. I did well in my French test, though!

Boy: Oh! Can you help me with French? I'm not so good at languages.

Girl: What about Science? That's my favourite subject. I always get A's.

Boy: Sure! I need your help with that, too!

Narrator: Now listen again.

5 How are they travelling to Manchester?

Mother: Hurry up! We have to leave now!

Boy: OK, I'm coming! I have to feed my goldfish before we go.

Mother: You've had all morning to do that. We're not catching the train, so by the time we reach Manchester, it will be dark. Perhaps Aunt Sophie could pick us up from the bus station. Oh no, I forgot. She'll be working late! We can always take a taxi, then.

Boy: I'm ready now. Let's go!

Narrator: Now listen again.

6 What does the woman want to buy?

Shop Assistant: Good morning. Can I help you?

Woman: Thank you but I'm just looking.

Shop Assistant: Are you looking for anything special? We've got a wonderful selection of evening dresses and the new autumn trends have just arrived.

Woman: Actually, I'm looking for a jumper for my husband.

Shop Assistant: I'm afraid we don't sell men's clothing here but why don't you try these scarves? They're from Scotland. Oh, this one would look lovely on you. Why don't you try it on?

Narrator: Now listen again.

7 What activity does the boy do now?

Girl: Hi, Ben. Are you on your way to tennis practice? We can go together.

Boy: Sorry Jill, but I gave that up months ago. I'm actually on my way to a hockey game.

Girl: Wow! Do you play?

Boy: No, my friend does. I'm just going to watch him. I prefer playing basketball. Why don't you come and see me play this Saturday?

Girl: Sure, I'd love to!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Progress Check 2

Ex. 7 (p. 78)

Narrator: You will hear part of an interview with a girl named Nicky Wilson who manages her own internet radio station. For each question, choose the correct answer A, B or C.

You now have 45 seconds to look questions for part 2.

Now we are ready to start. Listen carefully. You will hear the recording twice.

Interviewer: Nicky Wilson is fifteen years old and manages her own internet radio station. So Nicky, tell us how you first got started.

Nicky: Well, I have always been interested in music. But I could never find a radio station that played the songs people my age liked without too many advertisements in between them. So, during a long conversation with my best friend, she said it would be a good idea to start up my own station on the Net and that's how it began.

Interviewer: It must have been really difficult.

Nicky: Yes. To tell you the truth, I didn't know what to expect. Luckily, I got a lot of help from my brother, who is a computer whiz. He was happy to design a web page for me to advertise my station. My viewers could use it to learn about the station, the times to listen in and to access my show. Next I needed to buy the right equipment to play my music and accept calls from listeners. It was quite expensive but my parents helped out. The hardest part, however, was finding out how difficult it was to use all the technology. It took a lot of practice.

Interviewer: I can imagine you must have been nervous during your first broadcast. How did you manage?

Nicky: Before the broadcast, I was extremely anxious. I had advertised the first show by putting up posters around school, so I knew a lot of people would be listening and I didn't want to disappoint them. But, when the time came, all my friends started calling in to make requests and I became perfectly calm. Because of their support, I was able to put on a great show.

Interviewer: What needs to be considered when doing a live show?

Nicky: Well, firstly, how long the programme should be. It's easy to lose track of time when you're busy getting calls for songs and mixing all kinds of tunes. But if you have an hour show, it should be kept to just one hour.

Interviewer: Why is that?

Nicky: Well, my listeners make time to hear my show, so I like to stick to my programme. They might have arranged other things for later on in the day. I don't expect them to change their plans for me. Also, if your show goes on for too long, it can become too tiring. That's a sure way of losing listeners.

Interviewer: That's true! What about your plans for the future? What's next?

Nicky: Well, I want to continue my radio station but also start up a new internet talk show, where teenager's problems can be discussed. I have plans to bring in school counsellors to give my callers advice.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Progress Check 3

Ex. 4 (p. 124)

Narrator: Look at the six sentences for this part. You will hear a conversation between a girl, Brenda, and her friend, Jake, about a programme on TV. Decide if each sentence is correct or incorrect. If it is correct, choose the letter A for YES. If it is not correct, choose the letter B for NO.

You now have 20 seconds to look at the questions for part 4. Now we are ready to start. Listen carefully. You will hear the recording twice.

Boy: Brenda! How did you like The Big Eye yesterday? Wasn't it funny?

Girl: Hi Jake. I didn't watch the show, no. It's not my kind of thing. What exactly is The Big Eye about anyway?

Boy: Oh, you don't know what you're missing! It's about fifteen strangers that are put into a big house and have to live together for ninety days. And to make things more interesting, everything is recorded on camera and shown on TV.

Girl: For everyone to see?! Gosh, that must be strange and embarrassing for them.

Boy: Yes, and they aren't allowed to leave or talk to anyone that isn't in The Big Eye house. That means no trips, visitors or telephone calls. They aren't allowed to read newspapers or watch TV either.

Girl: I don't think I could do that! I'd get into lots of arguments with everyone. Hmm, so I guess that's why you like it, eh?

Boy: Exactly! But there is a point to the game. Almost every week the people living there have to choose which person should leave the show.

Girl: That's terrible. So, on top of being stuck with a bunch of strangers, the people there don't know if they can trust each other. And you like this programme?

Boy: Yes! It's good fun. Nobody is forced to stay in the house. They're there because they want to be. The person who stays the longest wins a huge cash prize and can even become famous.

Girl: Ah, now I understand! That sounds interesting. Maybe we could watch it together next week.

Boy: Sure! You'll see, after the next episode you'll be watching it all the time!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Progress Check 4

Ex. 5 (p. 158)

Narrator: Progress Check 4, Ex. 5, p. 158. You will hear some information about a short story competition. For each question, fill in the missing information in the numbered space.

You now have 20 seconds to look at part 3.

Now we are ready to start. Listen carefully. You will hear the recording twice.

Radio Announcer: If you love to write, then you'll be interested in the Kensington short story competition. Each year, Kensington Press organises a contest to give awards to talented young writers who are between the ages of 13 and 17.

Over the years they've accepted different types of stories in the competition including science fiction, mystery, romance, fantasy and drama. This time, however, Kensington Press is looking for an adventure story based in the early 1900s.

Stories must be no more than 1,500 words. Participants can email them to shortstorycompetition@kensington.com. The judges this year are two members of the Kensington editorial staff, Michael Thomas and Julie Yen. Mr Thomas is the editor of Daily Living. Mrs Yen is the assistant editor.

There are some terrific prizes. The first prize is £2,000. They have other prizes to give away such as laptops and some of the greatest novels of all time. There is an entry fee of £10. However, if contestants buy one of Kensington Press's magazines online, then the contest is free to enter.

All entries must be sent by February 19th. For more information about the contest visit KensingtonPress.uk.com. Good luck to all participants!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Progress Check 5

Ex. 4 (p. 189)

Narrator: Progress Check 5, Ex. 4, p. 189. You will hear part of an interview with a girl called Ann Sanders, a talented young photographer. For each question, choose the correct answer A, B or C.

You now have 45 seconds to look at the questions for part 2.

Now we are ready to start. Listen carefully. You will hear the recording twice.

Interviewer: Ann Sanders is a 17-year-old photographer whose latest photograph won the Glasgow Photography competition. Congratulations Ann. Now, tell us why did you want to become a photographer?

Ann: Well, ever since I was little I loved taking pictures. I found it so much fun. I took pictures of just about everything; the furniture in my house, people outside of shops, children running down the street, the trees outside my window. Then, at thirteen, I made up my mind that's what I wanted to do. I told my parents and they were so pleased that they bought me my own camera.

Interviewer: When did you start believing in your talent?

Ann: My parents actually helped me with that. When I was fourteen they sent one of my photos to a young photographer's competition online and I came in third place. I was so encouraged and I really started to believe in myself. After that I sent my photos to magazines, newspapers and any competition I found out about.

Interviewer: Where can we find some of your photos today?

Ann: You can find some of my photos in science and nature magazines like Today and Now and Our Planet. I've also had some recently published in The Glasgow News, a local paper. Right now, I'm trying to get several of my countryside pictures printed in a nature book but I haven't got a reply yet.

Interviewer: Is it hard for you to get photos published because of your age?

Ann: At first it was. There are those, of course, who don't take you seriously. They keep wondering what a teenager knows about photography. But you have to keep on trying. If they like your photos, they'll eventually remember your name and not your age.

Interviewer: What advice would you give to other teens interested in photography?

Ann: Carry a camera wherever you go and take as many pictures as possible. It would also be a good idea to take a course, like I have, in order to learn about the different techniques. Books are full of information but you need someone to show you. I had a fantastic high school photography teacher who taught me a lot. And finally enjoy yourself and what you are doing.

Interviewer: What are your future plans?

Ann: I want to get a degree in photojournalism. I'd like to work for a newspaper, one day, and travel around the world to show the public what other people are experiencing.

Narrator: Now listen again.
